About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world's only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 8th edition of the OBS covers 120 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2021 Global and Regional Reports, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Moldova has a transparency score of 65 (out of 100).

Moldova's transparency score of 65 in the OBS 2021 is moderately higher than its score in 2019.

What changed in OBS 2021?

Moldova has increased the availability of budget information by:

KEY

61-100 / 100

41-60 / 100

1-40 / 100

• Publishing the Mid-Year Review online.

Recommendations

Moldova should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Include in the Year-End Report comparisons between borrowing estimates and actual outcomes, and comparisons between planned non-financial outcomes and actual outcomes.
- Expand on the participatory nature of the Citizens Budget, for example by identifying the public's requirements for budget information prior to the release of the document, by publicizing it via additional methods of dissemination (e.g., billboards, radio programs), and by publishing simplified budget documents covering the formulation and audit phases of the budget cycle.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Mid-Year Review by providing a more detailed macroeconomic forecast for the entire budget year underway, including information on updated expenditure estimates by classification and individual programs, and by providing updated revenue estimates by individual sources.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies, and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

Moldova has a public participation score of 11 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Moldova's Ministry of Finance has established public consultations during budget formulation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to monitor budget implementation.
- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.
- Diversify the effectiveness of existing mechanisms by incorporating line ministries into the process.

Moldova's Parliament should prioritize the following actions:

- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Moldova's Court of Accounts has established mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program. It should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

• Establish formal mechanisms for the public to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Moldova, together, provide adequate oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 63 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Recommendations

Moldova's Parliament provides limited oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and limited oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The Parliament should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.
- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.

• In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units during the budget year.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by Moldova's Court of Accounts, the following actions are recommended:

• Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Moldova does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

*These indicators are *not* scored in the Open Budget Survey.

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2020 were assessed in the OBS 2021.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert: Tatiana Savva Centrul Analitic Independent Expert-Grup 45, Alexandru Bernadazzi St. MD-2012, Chisinau, Republic of Moldova tatiana@expert-grup.org
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Moldova by a representative of the Ministry of Finance.
